

Aging & Disability Services presents

Focus on The Future Forum

Tuesday, April 15, 2003

10:00 – 12:00

Miller Community Center

330 – 19th Ave East

Seattle, WA

“The Built Environment: Active Living by Design”

Speaker:

Deborah Howe, Ph.D

Professor of Urban Studies & Planning

Portland State University

Building Aging-Sensitive Communities

“Leadership is needed to support planning processes and implementation efforts that improve the interface between the aging experience and the built environment. Public education, training, research and investment are necessary components of the action agenda that must be put into place if elders are to be full participants in – and not cut off from – our society in the coming decades.”

Aging & Smart Growth, by Deborah Howe, Ph.D.

Contact information: ozell.bledsoe@seattle.gov

(206) 684.0490